About title:

On a winter-evening Flurina returns home to the farm. On the way she looks for a whimpering animal under an old tree. In that moment, an avalanche thunders down to the valley and buries Flurina. Brother Ursli searches for her. Luckily the branches have protected her and Ursli carries her home. Carigiet (1902-1985) is a famous Swiss artist depicting life in his native Engadine Alps. He also illustrated 6 children's books classics and won the Hans Christian Andersen Award in Gold. The title is also available in French. An audio and video version of this book exist.
